Library Collection Development Policy

as of February 17, 2010

- Format Guidelines
 - ✓ General - Materials are collected chiefly in print or digital format. Print or microform are currently used as mediums for backfile retention of materials. The Library's goal is to provide access to the information contained in these materials although in some cases the Library will provide access only through electronic sources.
- Serials— Digital format preferred, so long as:
 - ✓ The resource exists in a stable, citable format (such as pdf with original pagination) and,
 - ✓ The resource is hosted by an established vendor or a governmental entity whose ability to archive and preserve is reliable.

Collection Development Policy, 2008-9

http://www.lib.cam.ac.uk/CDP2008_9.pdf

- 17.2.8 :With the advent of electronic journals the pricing models of periodical subscriptions per se have become more complex. The main library is seeking to develop its subscriptions to take account of the much greater use made of periodicals in electronic format and is supporting the efforts of the Journals Coordination Scheme in expanding electronic access to titles formerly available only in print format. The University Library is a member of the international initiative LOCKSS (Lots of Copies Keep Stuff Safe) which enables long-term preservation of digitally-produced content and as such is carefully monitoring further initiatives in this area to ensure no decisions to rationalize print periodical subscriptions in favour of electronic journal purchases lead to loss of materials. Further information on the Journals Coordination Scheme is available at <http://www.lib.cam.ac.uk/journals/>.

Collection Development Policy, 2008-9

http://www.lib.cam.ac.uk/CDP2008_9.pdf

- 17.2.9 Subscriptions to print periodicals that publishers change over time to include or those that are replaced by electronic versions will be updated accordingly with the aim of enhancing access. The main library will always usually prefer to subscribe to titles in both print and electronic versions combined whenever the electronic is freely available in the subscription offer. When a print periodical ceases and is replaced by an electronic version a subscription will continue to the electronic version providing any increase in cost does not exceed that normally expected from percentage cost increases in periodical subscriptions year on year.
- 17.2.10 No cancellations will be made to subscriptions in both print and electronic version without consultation with the Journals Co-ordination Scheme.

28,518 Electronic Journals & Newsletters (as of Nov-7-2011)

上資料庫嗎?

我很少去圖書館
耶, 同學與我都是
用Google找資料,
就有很多了呀.

A bit old but still very TRUE !

College Students Love Google

- 89 percent of college students' information searches begin with a search engine*.
- Google was the overwhelming favorite (68 percent)*
- Why?
 - Very fast – it even tells you how fast
 - Brings up a large number of results
 - Often has a number of ‘relevant’ results within the first page
 - Simple interface
 - It’s free

*Source: College Students’ Perceptions of Libraries and Information Resources examines the information-seeking habits and preferences of international college students. This report is a companion piece to the December 2005 OCLC Perceptions of Libraries and Information Resources report.

Google-like Library Service

- The image of libraries as a quiet place to access books, rather than electronic sources, is still prevalent today (Connaway & Dickey, 2010). In order to entice people to use libraries and to change their perceptions of libraries, the library experience needs to become more like that available on the Web (e.g., Google, Amazon.com, iTunes) and to be embedded in individual workflows.... One recommendation that can be seen to follow from these results is that librarians need to adapt or seek to purchase services and systems that are designed to replicate the Web environment so that the systems are perceived as convenient and easy to use.

Source: Connaway, Lynn Silipigni, Timothy J. Dickey, and Marie L. Radford. 2011. "'If It Is Too Inconvenient, I'm Not Going After it:' Convenience as a Critical Factor in Information-Seeking Behaviors." Library and Information Science Research, 33: 179-190. Searcher's Frustration...

讀者的挫折

“I don't want to search.... I just want to find!”

“Just give me the Answer....
And make sure it's right!”

海底撈針(Finding needles) – how does Google do it?*

- Google is an index of web pages
- It uses clever algorithms that take into account links from other pages and click through
- BUT Google are very secretive as to exactly how they do it
 - 文章如何排序？
 - Google 學術搜尋會依關聯性排序您的搜尋結果。和 Google 網頁搜尋一樣，最實用的參考資料會出現在網頁最上方。Google 排名技術會考量每份文章的全部內文、作者、文章所在出版物，以及內容片段在其他學術文獻出現的頻率。

Liverpool's Discovery

Libraries have moved from being the monopoly supplier of information to being one of a number of suppliers, although in a scholar context we believe that we have the best of high-quality information. Discovery lets you have it both ways: the best quality and the most convenience.

圖書館不再像過去是讀者唯一的資訊提供選擇，儘管我們相信圖書館依舊提供高品質的學術參考資源，讀者有許多更簡易同時資料豐富的各種參考資源可使用。發現服務讓圖書館提供讀者以最便捷的方式使用更高品質的參考研究資源”

Metadata in EBSCO Discovery Service Compared

by Jody Condit Fagan, James Madison University

ALA Annual Conference 2010

Summary

The same searches were conducted using each of the four major discovery services and based on the relevance of results retrieved and an analysis of the metadata, the following was concluded:

EBSCO Discovery Service: Uses both subject indexing from controlled vocabularies, as well as publisher-provided content (author-supplied abstracts, author keywords, and full text)

Other Discovery Tool 1: Does not use index content (a.k.a., subject indexing from controlled vocabularies), and instead uses publisher content (usually not full text), which may vary from publisher to publisher

Other Discovery Tool 2: Relies primarily on “citation-only” data (a.k.a., table of contents searching / article title searching)

Other Discovery Tool 3: Is almost not even a discovery tool, although it is marketed as such – it’s more of an enhanced, faceted library catalog, plus a federated search tacked on

- Discovery systems have become prominent, but they are not a panacea. Students still must be extensively trained to search and do research, as one university professor's experience recently showed.
- Despite detailed instructions and demonstrations of the XXXXXX system, many students had significant problems locating a known article and finding other related articles
- Discovery systems conceal the variety in conducting research and move novice searchers away from the characteristics and context of the underlying resources. These conclusions of this experience are that all tools used by the current generation of students require specialized instruction, and without it, even smart students will struggle to use tools that may seem intuitive to many of us.

All truths are easy to understand once they are discovered; the point is to discover them.

一旦被找到，所有的真理都是容易認識和理解的；要點在於去發現它們。

Galileo Galilei(1564-1642)，義大利物理學家、數學家、天文學家及哲學家，為科學革命中重要人物。他最先有系統的研究等加速運動，奠定了牛頓運動定律的堅實架構。伽利略的成就被後世譽為「現代觀測天文學之父」、「現代物理學之父」、及「現代科學之父」。
